

Mattie is a 7 and half year old English Bulldog. I have had her since she was born. She started having seizures in February and then was diagnosed with a brain tumor. She has under gone surgery to have a shunt put in to draw away the fluid from the tumor. She is to undergo radiation for 3 days and is undergoing chemotherapy as well. She is on medication as well. She has had only one seizure since starting all the pills. Hopefully with the radiation and chemotherapy, the tumor will shrink. She has 2 sisters and 2 brothers. One brother passed away in October from heart problems. She is a very special dog to me. Since all of this has occured, I am thankful every day that she is still with me. Also pray that the chemotherapy and radiation help her.
