

Rasta came into my life as soon as I got back from my Iraq deployment in 2005. He instantly became my support, best friend, and shadow. For 8 years he has also been my travel buddy to the west coast and to the east coast numerous times. I want to take these next steps in his life to fight this Lymphoma cancer and give him the quality life he continues to deserve as long as he is happy and pain free.